The Sylvie Utick Memorial Academic Scholarship

Sylvie Bélanger Utick

Sylvie Bélanger Utick was born in Montreal, Canada on August 30, 1955 to the late Louis Bergeron and Thérèse Fortier Bélanger. She graduated from Ecole Polyvalente Daniel Johnson High School in 1973 and fashion design school a year later prior to embarking upon her career in Montreal's extensive fashion industry. Sylvie worked as a pattern maker, taking the clothing designer's sketches or drawings and turning them into the shapes and sizes needed to allow the fabric to be cut and sewn into the finished product.

Sylvie met her future husband Fred on a sailboat cruise while vacationing with friends in Atlantic City, New Jersey. After marriage, the newlyweds moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota to start a family. In 1979, the young family moved to Macon, Georgia when Fred's company relocated there. The change to a Southern lifestyle was quite a shock to a young, French speaking Canadian, but she survived and made many lifelong friends there while caring for Fred and their two daughters, Josye and Elysabeth. While always a Canadian at heart, Sylvie became a United States citizen on April 8, 1999. The warm Southern climate sparked her interest in tennis which in turn found her competing throughout America. Known for her exceptional baking and cooking skills, Sylvie began her career of 15 years in the food service industry once her children were in high school. She worked at the Bear's Den, a local favorite eatery, and at Mercer University. She retired as a manager of Macon State College's coffee shop in 2008 after which she began another career in Gastonia, North Carolina as grandmother to her first grandchild, Xavier.

Sylvie became ill in 2010 and it was discovered she had a very aggressive type of brain tumor. She underwent surgery followed by months of radiation and chemotherapy. Sylvie kept active in spite of everything, vacationing with Fred in the Bahamas in December, 2010 and in Las Vegas in September, 2011. Her love of people and baking was evident when in the midst of chemotherapy she took time to bake a baby shower cake for one of the chemo nurses treating her. In this world of so many dark clouds, Sylvie's life was a beam of sunshine. She was a lover of people, pets, especially big cats, and plants. She was a rescuer of strays, and a joy to all who knew her playful sense of humor. She kept her husband laughing for all of their years together. She was a Master Gardener whose love of plants filled her homes with color and life. She could sew, cook, bake, and play tennis. Just to be sure she could, she painted and constructed stained glass art. Sylvie passed on February 11, 2012.

Following Sylvie's death, Fred, Josye and Elysabeth set about to create an educational scholarship to help a deserving young woman with limited financial resources begin her postsecondary studies. Working in concert with the Master Gardeners of Central Georgia, a regional 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, the Utick family established The Sylvie Utick Memorial Academic Scholarship to assist the recipient with costs associated with her freshman year of college education.
