Employee Safety

The New Milford Board of Education complies with all applicable occupational health and safety laws. In addition, the Board strives to maintain a safe work place for all employees.

The administration shall reasonably provide proper materials, ensure all equipment is safe and establish safe methods, procedures and rules for employees to follow. Employees are responsible for following all health and safety rules and must notify an administrator of any malfunctioning equipment or improper materials that could possibly present a danger.

Training in health and safety shall be provided to employees as appropriate.
