The evidence is clear - physical activity can make you feel better, function better, and sleep better. Even one session of moderate-to-vigorous physical activity reduces anxiety, and even short bouts of physical activity are beneficial. Being physically active also fosters normal growth and development, improves overall health, and can reduce the risk of various chronic diseases. - Per CDC				1 K-12 1:00 PM Dismissal In-Person / Virtual Emergency Drill April Fool's Day	2 Good Friday NO SCHOOL	3

Individuals should set goals for activity that allow them to achieve the benefits they value. In setting goals, people can consider doing a variety of activities and try both indoor and outdoor activities. Simple goals are fine. For example, a brisk walk in the neighborhood with friends for 45 minutes on 3 days a week and walking to lunch twice a week may be just the right approach for someone who wants to increase both physical activity and social opportunities. - Per CDC						1
