	aligned with the strategic plan. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• She said the goal of the budget is to support the mission: The mission of the New Milford Public Schools, a collaborative partnership of students, educators, family and community, is to prepare each and every student to compete and excel in an ever-changing world, embrace challenges with vigor, respect and appreciate the worth of every human being, and contribute to society by providing effective instruction and dynamic curriculum, offering a wide range of valuable experiences, and inspiring students to pursue their dreams and aspirations.• Accomplishments for 2012-2013 included a youth leadership grant through the United Way; four National Merit commended students; essay and poster contest winners; academic excellence; art and music excellence; and athletic championships. Other accomplishments and recognitions include Hill and Plain and Northville Elementary schools receiving School of Distinction honors from the State Department of Education; USDA Foods School Breakfast innovation award runner up; CAFE communications awards for the annual report and the NMHS student handbook/planner; and five elementary teachers graduating from the Danbury-Area Elementary STEM Instructional Coaching Academy.• The budget priorities for 2014-2015 include adhering to reasonable class size guidelines to meet the instructional needs of students; providing professional development to support curriculum changes based on state and national standards; instructional improvement to increase student performance; providing services to address the mental health needs of students; and providing access to all athletic programs at no cost to students.• Budget challenges include implementation of the new teacher and administrator evaluation system; incorporating state and national

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The enrollment in New Milford public schools has been declining since 2004-2005 when the total population was 5249 to a projected population of 4369 in 2014-2015. The class size projections for K-5 will range from 17 in kindergarten to 21 at grade three at Hill and Plain, 18.2 in kindergarten at Northville to 22 for grade three, and 18.3 in kindergarten at John Pettibone to 22.3 in grade three.• Dr. Paddyfote noted that the budget controls for class size but not for unfunded or partially funded mandates of which there are many.• Dr. Paddyfote thanked the teachers, administrators and support staff for the hard work they do every day and thanked the Central Office personnel for their assistance in preparing this budget.
3.	Discussion of the 2014-2015 School Budget including, but not limited to, Elementary Schools and the Intermediate School <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Dr. Len Tomasello, Principal of Sarah Noble Intermediate School, explained the budget process which begins in the spring of each year. In the summer the principals look at what new initiatives they want to put in the budget. Once the school year begins the school leaders meet monthly to discuss how to improve the academic performance and security for students and staff. New programming includes the IXL math program and Lexia which is related to literacy goals. Literacy has been identified as a school goal. This will include identifying struggling readers and tying classroom library budgets to literacy initiatives.• Dr. Anne Stuhlman, Principal of Hill and Plain Elementary School, noted that common core is intended to help children succeed in an uncertain future. The idea is to teach fewer concepts deeper and more thoroughly. Math concepts from grade 4 will now be taught in grade 3. Changes in math expectations require	Discussion of the 2014-2015 School Budget including, but not limited to, Elementary Schools and the Intermediate School

	some new materials. After a review of inventories, some classes had materials and some needed new materials. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mrs. Susan Murray, Principal at Northville Elementary School, thanked the Board for the hiring of literacy and math coaches that are shared in the elementary schools and those dedicated to grades four through six. The instructional coaches consult with the teachers to help write curricula and provide professional development. The coaches provide modeling in the classroom and facilitate professional reflective conversations about the data. The coaches help keep the curriculum aligned with common core and national and district standards. They keep teachers focused on reading, writing and math. The proposed budget includes a data coach to measure the effectiveness of a teacher's instruction. • Mrs. Paula Kelleher, Principal at John Pettibone Elementary School, spoke about the System for Educator Evaluation and Development (SEED) process as one measure of instruction but also noted that there are indirect measures from curriculum, materials and evaluation of student needs. She said the elementary schools have collaborated on curriculum among other items so that K-6 students receive equitable instruction across the buildings. Common core now defines what needs to be done in education. The SEED initiatives are being implemented in the buildings as K-6 staff work as a team for the students. • Mr. Coppola asked if there was a decrease in administrators per the budget book and Dr. Paddyfote said the FTEs that were to the far left in the book were input last year after the proposed budget was adjusted. The reduction was 1.6 after budget adoption but there is no proposed reduction in this budget. • Mr. Shaffer said he was watching a show where Barbara Bush was speaking about the

	importance of remedial reading, yet this budget had two teachers at Hill and Plain, two at Northville, and one at John Pettibone since Pettibone was being reduced by one even though the enrollment was only down 23. Mr. Smith said the teacher ratio is closer at Pettibone in terms of the number of students served and there are fewer remedial readers identified there. He said the idea behind this budget is not to look at cookie cutter ways but to put the most resources where they are most needed. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Mr. Lawson asked how the data coach would be utilized and Mr. Smith said all the coaches help teachers improve in instruction. He said if you compare the groups in New Milford's DRG the instructional support teachers in other districts have is far greater. He said the data shows that some students need intervention and also shows whether intervention is working or not. The data coach will help build capacity on a district level and also will help teachers utilize data in the classroom.• Mr. Coppola asked if there would be one coach for K-12 and Mr. Smith said there would be. Mr. Coppola asked how the position would be utilized to ensure effectiveness and Mr. Smith said areas of weakness would be identified and then a priority focus area would be chosen to start on. Mr. Coppola asked if this person was only going to look at the Smarter Balanced data and Mr. Smith said multiple data sources would be used.• Mr. Lawson asked each principal if they were finished with their teacher evaluations yet and each principal said they were not.• Mr. Spatola asked what an intervention teacher's duties would be, what educational requirements they might have, etc. Mr. Smith said the role of the interventionist is to help structure the intervention process for a student. They are certified teachers. He said they will look for gaps of knowledge in current students

	to figure out what educational aspect needs to be filled in. Mr. Spatola asked how many students there might be and Mr. Smith estimated there might be 40 at the high school right now at risk. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Coppola asked if there were textbooks being purchased versus workbooks and Mr. Smith said the money was being reallocated to consumables. Mrs. Murray said with the IXL program various manipulatives need to be purchased. Mr. Smith said the K-6 math curriculum was not replaced last year and this is a transition year. No program has been selected yet until end of this year so there is no textbook per se for K-6. • Mr. Littlefield said the administration is emphasizing common core but he thought the town applied for state money but did not receive it. Mr. Smith said the district never applied for funding, that the state decided to implement common core standards in order to apply for Race to the Top money. He said common core and SEED are state mandates. He noted that 26 other states adopted the Smarter Balanced program as well. • Mr. Shaffer asked if the 0.5 guidance counselor was enough and Mrs. Kelleher said the guidance counselors deliver a developmental guidance program which has worked so far. Dr. Stuhlman noted that the school psychologists assist as well. • Mr. Shaffer said Schaghticoke was getting $2,000.00 for extra help on the Smarter Balanced assessments but he didn't see it in the K-6 budgets. Mr. Smith said the $2,000.00 was to administer the CMT Science test not the Smarter Balanced assessments. Dr. Tomasello said he did not think they would need it; he said they have three computer labs and an additional 50 laptops. Mrs. Kelleher also said just the third grade would be taking the test. • Mr. Shaffer asked what room dividers would be used for and Dr. Tomasello said they will be

Each school is then given a target number which they break down into each line.• Mrs. Chastain asked if the elimination of teacher clerks was having an impact on the schools and Dr. Tomasello said more copiers were bought at Sarah Noble so he did not think there were more breakdowns or problems.• Mrs. Shook asked what a document camera was and Dr. Tomasello said it projected an image onto a screen.• Mr. Shaffer asked when the collaborative periods were and Dr. Tomasello said they were the 15 minutes before and after school and 43 minute blocks every day.• Mr. Littlefield noted that a lot of money was being put towards struggling students but asked what resources were being put towards the gifted students. Mrs. Murray said that is part of the general budget for differentiation and they have more specific activities for certain students. Mrs. Kelleher said there are WIN blocks – What I Need blocks – where students get more of what they need instructionally.• Mr. Lawson noted that the talented and gifted program was discussed at the Committee on Learning and he suggested that document be given to Board members.• Mr. Smith said the data coach would not just be for struggling students but also for those above grade level so they can be taught to their level

Also, the IXL math program is online so problems can be from any level. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Littlefield asked why these students were taught in the same classroom, why weren't the more advanced students placed into a separate math or reading classroom. Mr. Smith said flex grouping is hard to do because children develop cognitively at different rates. He said the coaches help to adapt technology and instruction for all students. • Mr. Lawson said that teachers are currently being asked to do two things at once – fill gaps and initiate the new standards at the same time. He thanked the teachers for their work.

Mrs. Ford said that decision was made several years ago after some parents complained of the hardship of having to purchase supplies requested by teachers. She noted students are given one allotment of supplies and if they lose them it is their responsibility to replace them. • Mr. Lawson asked who does the data collection and Mrs. Ford said she does and the teachers do and then the teachers attempt to interpret the data. • Mr. Lawson asked when collaboration time occurs and Mrs. Ford said during teachers' prep times as well as during two planning periods per week. She said collaboration time is not separate from team planning time. • Mr. Shaffer asked when, for instance, the 7th grade math teachers might get together to collaborate and Mrs. Ford said during department meetings which occur two times per month. • Mr. Spatola asked about the equipment line, new English, Chromebooks and the $3,600.00 under Technology for Chromebooks. Mrs. Ford said the World Language department was requesting Chromebooks as well. • Mr. Littlefield asked if Chromebooks were new and Mrs. Ford said they were. Mr. Lawson asked if the Chromebooks could be transferred from building to building and Ms. Pratt said they could but each building would be getting its own set.• Mr. Spatola asked how the Chromebooks worked and Ms. Pratt said they are based on an android operating system and operate in the cloud. Each Chromebook costs $278.00 plus $30.00 for a three year licensing fee.• Mr. Shaffer asked why no money was budgeted for math books. Mr. Smith said the algebra books will be used so that a hard transition can be avoided. He noted the textbook supports the curriculum but is not curriculum itself. He said they do not want to buy textbooks until they know what they need.• Mr. Shaffer asked if this was going to be another year of one sheet at a time papers. Mrs. Johnson said the old high school algebra books will be moved down to 8th grade so they do have resources.• Mr. Littlefield asked if new Algebra 1 books were going to be purchased because he thought they already were. Mrs. Johnson said the Algebra 1 books are brand new.• Mr. Spatola asked if buying within our reference group would be more cost effective and Mr. Smith said New Milford already participates in consortium buying when it can.• Mr. Shaffer asked about the CAS membership and banquet number wondering what the banquet would be for. Mrs. Ford said the banquet is the scholar leader award banquet held at the Aqua Turf. She said the Connecticut Association of Schools sponsors the banquet for two students from the middle school and two from the high school to be honored.• Mr. Shaffer asked how the teachers were working without the teacher clerk position. Mrs. Stoughton said repeated supplies are used in science. Mrs. Ford also noted that students are taking more World Languages and 57% of 8th graders are taking starter Spanish so that's why there is a need for more workbooks. New Milford High School <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Shugrue said the budget process is a collaborative effort and he said it is a pleasure to work with dedicated individuals every day. He noted some of the accomplishments for the high school include the reestablishment of the School Climate Committee, implementing and working with the SEED initiative, the accreditation self-study in anticipation of the NEASC visit in early May of 2015, implementing the 21st century learning expectations, and implementing rubrics to measure those same expectations. • He mentioned some new programs in the 2013-2014 budget included the pre-engineering courses which have proven to be very popular especially with female students and four additional AP courses. • The 2014-2015 budget includes an increase in technology and improvement of curriculum. He noted that three years ago the state raised the minimum credit requirement to graduate from high school to 25 and this Board voted to go to 26 which has staffing impacts. The school needs to have the structure in place to allow students to take 26 credits. Next year students will need 23.5 credits; the Class of 2016 will need 24.5 credits; and the Class of 2017 will need 26 credits. The Board will have to continue to address staffing needs going forward. • Mr. Shugrue noted that the Strategic Plan and the NEASC recommendations will be the

Mr. Shugrue said he is budgeting $24,000.00 which includes training sessions, Endicott survey, Visiting Committee expenses including overnight stays from Sunday to Wednesday, and clerical expenses. • Mr. Coppola asked what the expectations of the teachers would be and Mr. Shugrue said the staff and faculty are broken down into committees to cover seven standards with 16 members on each committee. • Mr. Lawson asked if this was extra duty for each faculty member and Mr. Shugrue said it is an expectation. • Mr. Shaffer asked about the SAT Math and English classes given the decreasing enrollment and wondered if the SATs could be addressed without adding staffing. Mr. Shugrue said there is no direct correlation in classroom size because the classroom may have dropped from 32 students to 27. Mr. Smith noted that this is an additional credit being added. • Mrs. Chastain asked if this would be a full credit course and Mr. Shugrue said it was 0.5 credit but it provides a great opportunity to 11th graders with SAT results having flattened or dipped in recent years. • Mr. Shaffer noted there is no money in the budget for books for the SAT classes and Mr. Shugrue said there will be no link for courses to any textbook. • Mr. Lawson asks who collects data and Mr. Shugrue said primarily teachers and the administration. • Mr. Lawson asked what data is being collected and Mr. Shugrue said MAP testing, common formative assessment testing written by the teachers, and smarter balanced assessment testing. • Mr. Lawson asked when collaborative time was allotted and Mr. Shugrue said teachers have one 81 minute prep period every four days.

Mr. Shugrue said the math class size is 27 to 28 and science is 26 to 28. • Mr. Littlefield asked about the future staffing needs and Mr. Shugrue said the school will have to offer more elective credits to get to 26. He said if enrollment keeps decreasing then it might be possible to redistribute FTEs. He noted the high school only has three art teachers and two music teachers. Also, more technology education will be needed. He said more businesses classes including financial literacy will be needed. • Mr. Littlefield asked if the expertise was currently in house and Mr. Shugrue said that was a question Ms. Baldelli would better be able to answer. • Mr. Smith said the possibility might be if a third grade teacher retires, that position might not be replaced but rather a 10th grade teacher might be hired. • Mr. Spatola said the United States ranks 22nd in math in the world and 19th in science and wondered if more STEM courses would be added as electives. Mr. Smith said this would have clear staffing implications. • Mrs. Faulenbach noted that the Board has been discussing this because they did not want to come in at the 11th hour to address these issues. • Mr. Lawson said this is another unfunded mandate and there would be a huge increase if the Board did not look at this ahead of time. • Mr. Coppola asked if textbooks for common core would be purchased at the high school and Mr. Shugrue said they will start purchasing textbooks for new courses and outdated courses. • Mr. Shaffer asked in regard to pay to play if football players went to camp did they have to pay themselves and Mr. Shugrue said camp expenses are incurred by the players and they run fundraisers to help offset. • Mrs. Chastain asked if there were any

He described the magnitude of the change the school district is going through as “epic.” The change should allow the United States to compete in a global economy. Mr. Smith handed out a list of jobs from LinkedIn that didn’t even exist ten years ago. He said the district needs to be sure they are collecting data effectively and efficiently. He said the literacy and math coaches have graduate degrees but the data coach’s job description is still emerging. The coach will not use data to reduce the students down to any one point but rather will look at how the data is collected and used. • Mr. Smith said he hears anecdotal stories every day of the shift that education is undergoing. No one has experience with the common core and no one has taught with Chromebooks 	Department of Instruction

He noted that he suggested summer school be removed last year because so few students were participating and he promised to come back with a solution which will be the after school intervention program with transportation. He said the district did not budget in any “knee jerk” reactions to SEED, NEASC or common core, rather sticking with the five year curriculum plan. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Mr. Smith noted the mandate of the AED units at each school. He also said the district will be aligning the K-6 math curriculum with common core.• Mr. Smith noted he was suggesting that tutors be reduced to help offset the cost of the interventionist. New programs such as NWEA will be offset by grants. The Adult Education program stipend has been increased in this budget from $13,000.00 to $30,000.00.• Mr. Shaffer asked if this was one-on-one intervention or group work and Mr. Smith said it was group.• Mrs. Faulenbach asked how many students might be impacted and Mr. Smith said probably 100 at the high school and 100 at the middle school.• Mr. Spatola said from everything he read intervention was most effective for grades one, two or three and he didn’t see any budget for the lower grades. Mr. Smith said there is currently intervention before school for elementary grades. He said there are students now in middle school who have not been caught and that needs to be fixed but intervention at the high school is obviously much more urgent.• Mr. Lawson asked what would be in place to evaluate effectiveness and Mr. Smith said it would be a combination of screening, including MAP, reading teachers, and then the tools such as Lexia or Aimsweb. They will be looking for a linear growth pattern.• Mr. Coppola asked if there was money coming from the state or federal government for this

Ms. Baldelli said she had been working on that number for Mr. Spatola and would have it next week. • Mrs. Chastain asked if there was any attendance recognition or reward program and Dr. Paddyfote said that would be a contract negotiation.

	for their work. She said the majority of this department is based on the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). The Act is designed to allow students with disabilities to be supported educationally in a least restrictive environment. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Pupil Personnel and Special Services works with the mental and physical health of the children while Special Education allows for extracurricular services and learning alongside a child's peers.• Mrs. Olson highlighted some of the accomplishments for 2013 including the Excel pre-school program for ages three, four and five. This is a mandated early intervention service and offers high quality services and supports. The district-wide behavioral intervention program which is supported by outside behaviorists allows students to stay in this district. The reading program is allowing for consistency in reading instruction between all the schools.• Sarah Noble has the highest number of special education students and many are fully mainstreamed in the classroom but require intervention services. Schaghticoke has a redesigned intervention program which has been able to bring a student back into the district from a private placement. New Milford High School last year graduated 28 students, 22 of whom received diplomas and are now serving in the marines, army, work force, or two or four year schools. Students have won Rotary awards, scholarships, been included in dance competitions, competed on the cross country team, swim teams, football, etc. The Best Buddies Club continues at the high school and is growing. There is a new Unified Sports program which is run through Special Olympics. The Litchfield Hills Transition Center, which is a mandated program for 18 to 21 year olds, has ten students from New Milford and there is a waiting list of students

	from other districts. Tuition can be charged for out of district students but New Milford students are funded through the IDEA grant. The district is now offering a Physical Management Training course which is mandated. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mrs. Olson said the department is focusing its efforts to monitor compliance on timelines and on implementing common core standards for all students. • Department 11 provides a mandated 0.4 nurse to Faith Academy. The department shows an increase of a 1.0 social worker who will be scheduled in all three elementary schools for earlier interventions. Mrs. Olson said the social workers manage almost all out of district placements and have been instrumental in bringing students back into the district. • Line 2130/323 is for independent evaluations which are required for the most complex students. The key is to diagnose and plan a program effectively. Fifty to seventy five evaluations are done per year for ages three to 21. The outside consultants also train our staff in dealing with families having complex behavioral issues and mental health issues. This line includes occupational and physical therapists and is in the first year of a three year contract. These are mandated services. Over 150 students receive occupational therapy/physical therapy services and over 60 receive consultations. There is a sign interpreter for students and staff identified as hearing impaired. Many of these services generate Medicaid and excess cost reimbursements. Overall, department 11 is down 0.49%. • Department 12 includes Excel, Special Education and Public and Private Placement. There are two clinicians who use the applied behavioral approach which seems to have some success on autistic students in particular. These services are year round for IPP and IPP staff

The contractor provides their own supervision, substitutes, training and workers compensation. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Line 1212/111 has an increase because of the use of district coaches for the PMT training. Coaches need to be compensated for planning, preparing and delivering services. The 1212/112 non-certified personnel line has increased due to the IDEA grant decreasing by $54,000 next year. There is a 0.49 Assistive Technology Consultant which is a mandated service for evaluation and consultation.• Line 1212/339 Purchase Services includes 22 student case workers who assist the most complex students. There are also four IPP clinicians for school age children.• The Litchfield Hills Transition Center is a mandated program and includes job coaches, stipends for working students. Home based instruction is provided for students who are hospitalized or are returning from hospitalization.• The decrease in the transportation line is directly related to the number of students placed out of district. That number has decreased so the transportation number has decreased. New Milford also shares transportation with other school districts when it can and this is also excess cost eligible.• Public and private tuition is very costly and very unpredictable. There are five students this year returning to the district and three students who were placed in the summer. They are placed by PPTs, by mediation, by due process or by the State through DCF. These are excess cost eligible.• The IDEA grant is down $54,000 and the excess cost reimbursement percentage has gone from 75% to 70% for this upcoming budget. But there have been cost savings in the summer school salary account due to a restructuring of the program and Litchfield Hills Transition has

Overall department 12 has increased by 0.15%. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Littlefield asked for the number of students covered by the student case workers and Mrs. Olson noted they are in all the buildings. • Mr. Coppola asked if the excess cost reimbursement still kicked in after the 4.5% was spent and Mrs. Olson explained that the per pupil expenditure for the district was multiplied by 4.5% giving the maximum number New Milford would have to spend; above that New Milford is reimbursed 70% by the state. • Mr. Shaffer asked how many students were placed out of district in private placement and Mrs. Olson said there were 33 currently in private placement. Mr. Shaffer asked if each placement was $100,000 and Mrs. Olson said each placement varied in cost. • Mrs. Volinski asked if any students came into our district and Mrs. Olson said the Litchfield Hills Transition Center is the only program that takes students from other districts and collects tuition. Mrs. Volinski asked how many Excel students there are and Mrs. Olson said there are 49 this year all from within our district. Department of Maintenance & Utilities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Calhoun said the Facilities, maintenance and custodial budgets have increased due to contractual negotiations. He noted the cost of maintenance rises each year but is essential to maintaining the buildings. Some of the new and continuing initiatives include increased air quality in the classrooms, increased recycling efforts, collaborations with other town agencies, performing formerly private contracted services in house with district staff in HVAC, plumbing, small construction projects, etc., and energy savings initiatives. • Mr. Spatola asked what the energy manager did and Energy Manager Mr. William Knipple said he has been involved with projects that have saved the district money through cost avoidance savings. He noted that since 2006, the district has saved almost $2.3 million. He said by controlling the operations of the buildings and having lights and heat on only when needed during the day costs have been controlled. Also, the retrofits of lighting and the energy management system have helped.

- Mr. Lawson noted that the $2.3 million in savings was a good deal for the district.
- Mr. Coppola asked if the energy avoidance program started as an offshoot of the CL&P audit done four years ago and Mr. Knipple said that the CL&P audit was actually an offshoot of the whole energy avoidance program.
- Mr. Shaffer asked how many hours a year or week Mr. Knipple took to do the energy manager job and Mr. Knipple said it was probably 10 – 12 hours per week with audits and input of CL&P bills.
- Mr. Coppola asked if the Board works with the Town to purchase oil and Mr. Miller said the Town handles the bidding of #2 fuel oil, diesel, and unleaded fuel so the two can piggyback on consumption. Currently the Board is getting an estimated price for fuel oil for 2014-2015 of $3.25 per gallon because #2 fuel oil usually does not lock in until April or May.
- Mr. Coppola asked if the Board collaborated with the Town on electricity and Mr. Miller said the Town and schools use electricity at different times so it does not work out the same as oil. Also, each school is rated differently by CL&P and CL&P is regulated by the state.
- Mr. Spatola asked if Mr. Miller was concerned about the oil budget for 2014-2015 given the low degree days this year and Mr. Miller said he is optimistic the number is adequate for next year.
- Mrs. Volinski noted at one point Kimberly Clark was going to sell its excess electricity to the district and Mr. Calhoun said that never

He noted that the district's procedure is the same as the Town's. • Mr. Spatola asked if there was a threshold amount before something was put out to bid and Mr. Calhoun said the Board policy is that $5,000 requires a Request For Quotation (RFQ) and $15,000 requires a Request For Proposal (RFP). Mr. Spatola asked if local vendors were used and Mr. Calhoun said the district tries to use local where possible. • Mrs. Faulenbach noted that the district collaborates with the town on refuse, diesel, #2 fuel oil, workers compensation, medical, pension and financial software. Department of General Administration <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Miller said the DOGA budget is $16,405,954 or 26% of the total operating budget. One of the items in the budget is the annual recurring cost of $62,500 for the new Munis financial software. He noted that the Town has been discussing a new platform for several years and the Board and Town are collaborating on this software. The plan is to transfer over accounts payable and requisitions as of July 2014 and then payroll will be transferred in January 2015. • Mr. Spatola said there is a new law which allows non-educational services to be combined with the Town and Board of Education. He asked if it would be possible to combine the Finance departments. • Mr. Coppola suggested this idea should go to the Operations Sub-Committee. • Mrs. Chastain asked about line 2510/580, the district wide secretary, and Dr. Paddyfote noted this is a travel reimbursement line for the central office secretary because the auditor suggested that two people needed to count the money that comes in through various programs and clubs at the high school. The money is counted with both people present for double counting purposes and then brought to the Central Office.

- Mrs. Chastain noted the phone line of $15,418 and said that seemed quite high; she asked if that was the whole system or just Central Office. Mr. Miller said that is Central Office only as each phone system is accounted for in each building. Mr. Smith said there are currently three phone systems and the district is looking to consolidate down to one system. Mrs. Faulenbach said the consolidation was brought up at Operations and it is a costly initiative.
- Mr. Littlefield asked about the $144,000 copier expense and Mr. Miller said that is the rentals, leases, maintenance, repairs, etc. on 42 district wide copiers.
- Mr. Shaffer asked about the employee turnover line and Mr. Miller said the district knows turnover is going to happen and this line will be quantified as staff turns over in June. Dr. Paddyfote noted the end of year balance has ranged in the hundreds to the thousands over time which makes it difficult to manage turnovers.
- Mr. Miller said line 2710/511 has increased 3% and is contractual. Line 2950/200 is the medical line and the number comes from the insurance consultant. The Town and Board are self-insured and it is based on claims. The pay is based on usage and is paid out of the internal service fund which is maintained on the Town's side of the budget. The medical number is derived by the estimated claims cost of $9,683,600 and then contributions are added back in – COBRA $40,735, retired teachers $417,992, and employee cost sharing of $1,675,832 for a total of $2,134,559 or net

	medical insurance budgeted cost of $7,549,041. Mr. Miller noted this number will be looked at again around June before a referendum to create a final budget number. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Spatola noted that the internal service fund has allowed some budget relief over the last two years of $1.15 million in 2012-2013 and $125,000 for this budget. Mr. Miller said the Town got relief as well but none is expected in this budget cycle. • Mr. Miller said when one is self-insured there is no insulation for the ups and downs in claims. Mr. Spatola asked if the first stop gap of $100,000 in protection was still in place and Mr. Miller said he thought the first stop gap was now $150,000 per individual and there was a second stop gap of 120% of the aggregate for catastrophic. • Mrs. Volinski asked if everyone paid into the health insurance and Mr. Miller said they did, based on their bargaining unit. Ms. Baldelli said the administrators pay 20%, 21% and 22% per year over the next three, food service workers pay 7.5%, 8.5% and 9.5%, nurses pay 13%, 14% and 15%, paraeducators pay 6%, 7% and 8%, secretaries pay 11%, 12% and 13%, teachers pay 18%, 19% and 20%, and custodians pay 13%, 14% and 15%. • Mr. Miller said the line for unemployment compensation has been decreased because many who are let go can and do find work. He said this is also a self-insured line based on claims. • Line 2970/200 in the amount of $967,310 is the last year of an early retirement package and of a workers' compensation increase because a large claim dating back almost 10 years has been settled and there are two or three more substantial pending claims that might settle in this budget cycle. Ms. Baldelli said it is the nature of the jobs in certain bargaining units that injury might occur but the district is offering training in each building to keep

He said the insurance is provided through CIRMA which is regulated by the state so that rates can't increase excessively.• Mr. Miller said the pension figure is increasing by 6.4% and is provided by the Town's actuary. There are 235 active participants in the Town's pension plan and other sub groups including retired Board employees and vested employees who are not yet collecting.• Mr. Coppola asked what the substitute dollar amount was for sick days, etc., and professional days. Ms. Baldelli said the substitute line is broken down for sick time, personal time, bereavement and jury duty and there is a separate budget line for professional development.• Mr. Spatola had asked Ms. Baldelli a while ago for a breakdown of the 10,000 absentee days. Ms. Baldelli said the system does not allow them to pull the numbers the way Mr. Spatola wanted them so it took some time to come up with this information. She said the chart presented took about 120 hours to break down half day versus full day absences, professional development, early dismissals, etc. Mrs. Shook noted as a teacher they are exposed to lots of illnesses – children sneezing, fevers, etc. and these sick days cannot be compared to a factory or any other type of business. Mrs. Chastain pointed out that this spreadsheet produced by Ms. Baldelli at $20 per hour for 120 hours cost around $2,200.• Mr. Coppola asked how the Chromebooks would be used in the Schaghticoke budget and Ms. Pratt said the licensing fee would be $30 for three years and not $100 for three years which she had said the other day. While the ceiling is unsightly, it is not a high priority item. • Mrs. Faulenbach asked if there might be grants upcoming for the security enhancements and Mr. Calhoun said while there might be future state grants they usually require a match. • Mr. Littlefield asked what might be done under the security enhancements and Mr. Calhoun said that had been discussed in an executive session so as to safeguard the district's security measures but some security items would include videos for surveillance, access controls, dual vestibules, etc. • Mrs. Faulenbach asked how old the front deck mower was and Mr. Calhoun said he started in 1995 and the mower was there then. • Ms. Pratt said the items under the Technology capital budget included additional Chromebooks, SmartBoards and mobile devices, and a network switch infrastructure 	Capital

Mrs. Olson said the number of out of district placements was decreasing as well. Mr. Miller said it is possible the state could change the formula but currently the rate is 70%. • Mrs. Shook asked why the Sherman tuition went to the Town's bottom line and Mr. Miller said he did not know but if the Board took the million, the Town would reduce its revenue by that amount anyway. • Mr. Spatola said he did not appreciate being chastised by Mrs. Chastain for asking for information on the 10,000 absentee days and wondered if the Board members were not going to be allowed to ask for information because of the costs of those requests. Dr. Paddyfote explained that typically those requests would come through a sub-committee. • Mr. Spatola asked if any thought had been put into the fact that there was a $780,000 surplus

Mr. Smith said interventionists are certified teachers and so they can do far more than tutors can do. He said they would design, facilitate, administer, prepare and advise teachers where tutors could not do those same duties. He also noted there is no state certification at this time for intervention teachers or data coaches as they are emerging roles, though they have been in Connecticut schools for seven years. He said the skills required would be those of a certified teacher who has mastered a specific skill already, such as math or science. They would have a proven track record to demonstrate the work needed to be done in the district. • Mr. Lawson asked who would supervise and Mr. Smith he would as well as the principal in the building they were in. 	Smith said MAP is not required by the state but what is required is a response to intervention. In order to do an intervention there needs to be a measurement of the student's ability and it needs to be universal – MAP is that tool. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mr. Shaffer asked if the intervention teacher would work with kids one-on-one or in groups and Mr. Smith said it would be both. • Mr. Spatola noted that enrollment in New Milford has dropped 710 students since the 2004-2005 school year. The budget, on the other hand, has increased by 31% over the same time period. The test scores are lagging behind the schools in this DRG and people keep asking him why the taxes keep going up and yet there has been a large surplus. The tax base 10 years ago was 60% residential and 40% commercial. It is now 80% residential and 20% commercial. The most recent revaluation was down $200 million and the grand list is flat. • Mr. Coppola noted that Mr. Spatola had the right to make a motion to delete items from the budget. • Mr. Spatola noted that the flat grand list at the current mill rate meant only an available increase of $150,000 in revenues. • Mr. Coppola appealed to the parliamentarian to have Mr. Spatola make a motion to discuss. Mrs. Faulenbach noted that the Board had the opportunity now to amend the superintendent's proposed budget by adding or taking dollars away. She suggested Mr. Spatola put a motion on the table. He then would have an opportunity to speak to that motion.

She said if a principal is sick or takes a personal day, then someone from one of the other schools or the central office would have to be brought in to fill in. • Mr. Smith said that in addition to SEED, New Milford is ranked 171 out of 193 school agencies in Connecticut in regard to administrator to teacher ratio.
