Ruleville Central High JMG students tour Monsanto.

The Learning Center at Scott, Mississippi provides growers and producers the ability to tour our research and demonstration plots focused on presenting advanced agronomic studies. Mrs. Anthony's class got a chance to see first hand what really goes on behind agriculture. I spoke with several students and they were amazed and grateful the experience.

Jesse Cooper
Teacher of the Year 2018

I grew up in Kentucky in a poor single parent household. I completed my AA at North-east Mississippi Community College in 2012 and moved on to Delta State University. At Delta State University, I realized that my passion wasn't English as much as it was Language so I changed my major to a foreign language. I graduated with my BA in foreign language at DSU in 2014 and then joined DSU's MAT program under the instruction of my advisor at DSU (as this route would get me a Master's degree and higher pay). I got my Master's in August of 2017, after teaching two years at RCHS. I'd like to say that I plan on staying at RCHS for as long as I can, but I never know what challenges the future may present to me or if I may need to change schools because of my wife's career goals. However, I can say for certain that I love teaching at RCHS.
