Houston County High School Work-Based Learning Student of the Month

Kate Honaker is Houston High's Work-Based Learning Student of the Month. Kate works at Bear Necessities, the School Based Enterprise (SBE). Her career pathway is Marketing. She is also a very involved member of DECA which prepares emerging leaders and entrepreneurs.

Through her position as a sales associate, Kate takes part in completing various tasks and operations for the store, including stocking and counting inventory, organizing merchandise displays, and collecting and counting money. Additionally, her job requires her to practice effectively using customer service skills.

She has fostered great relationships with her co-workers and is an excellent team member. Even when she is not physically at work, Kate is thinking of ways to improve Bear Necessities. She brainstorms different ways to reach the store's target market and works to create new merchandise designs.

Kate said, "I love working at Bear Necessities. My job has taught me not only business and marketing skills, but valuable life skills that I will carry with me forever. I have enjoyed every aspect of my job, from simply organizing merchandise, to thinking of new ways to attract customers. I have become close friends with so many of my co-workers and have been able to form a great bond with my supervisor, Ms. Brown, not to mention, by working through the Work-Based Learning program, I have been able to get to know my amazing teacher, Mrs. Jones. I am so glad I have had the opportunity to work at my school's SBE. My job has better prepared me for my future endeavors, as I plan to get a business degree and major in Human Resource Management."

Kate's supervisor, Shayna Brown, says, "Kate has been one of my most reliable and dedicated employees for several years. Her enthusiasm is infectious and I have been fortunate to have the opportunity to be her mentor and adviser."

Perry High FCCLA Participates in FCCLA Week

Perry High FCCLA executive council and chapter members were very active in FCCLA week activities which helped bring awareness to their career and technical student organization. The executive council provided a grab and go Starbucks coffee bar for the front office staff to show their gratitude and appreciation for their school office staff, administrators, SRO, counselors, media specialists and school nurse. These staff members play such an important part in helping the school run smoothly during day-to-day operations. Members created valentine's day cards for the local nursing home residents to help brighten their day and make them feel special. They also created "thinking of you" cards to distribute to Perry Hospital patients in these unprecedented times with family restrictions during hospital stays. All cards were delivered to the staff directors who were appreciative of this thoughtful act of kindness. Members and the executive council enjoyed giving back by participating in these community service outreach projects.

Perry High School FBLA Competes at the Regional Leadership Conference

In January, Perry High School's FBLA chapter competed in the Region Leadership Conference. Perry High had two students who placed in the top 10. Reanna Patel and Allie Shugart placed 2nd for Introduction to Business Presentation.

FBLA competitions range from online testing events to developing projects and presentation events in the areas of business and computer science. The Introduction to Business Presentation competition had the students prepare a presentation on how social media can impact your future. They explained the impact of social media on getting into college and in getting a job. They then had to film their presentation and send it off to a panel of judges.

Several students are now preparing for the State Leadership Conference. There are many students studying for tests ranging from Organizational Leadership to Computer Problem Solving and Perry High School FBLA has a promising entry in Coding and Programming. PHS placed in Nationals for Coding and Programming in 2018 (1st place), 2020 (7th place), and this year hopes to do the same.

Hoke's Heating & Air Creates Pipeline for HVAC Techs

Andrew Grant, PHS Class of 2021, works at Hokes Heating & Air via the Youth Apprenticeship Program.

Jeff Avant completed the Northside HVAC pathway in 2017. He has only had one job since graduating high school, Hoke's Heating & Air. Four years ago Hoke Morrow gave Jeff a chance to show up on time and to learn as much as he could. Today Jeff trains Perry High School senior Andrew Grant on new construction installs and change outs. Andrew started working for Hoke's Heating & Air his junior year via the Youth Apprenticeship Program right before the pandemic forced the school system to finish via virtual learning. Andrew loves working at Hoke's and hopes to one day help another Houston County student when they gain employment at Hoke's. "I think it's amazing because I have actually gotten the skills and everything I need from my pathway and on the job training it has helped me start my career before I have left high school." Andrew Grant

Jeff Avant, NHS Class of 2017 trains Andrew Grant at the Hawkinsville location most days from noon to 6 pm.

VHS CTAE Collaboration at Its Best

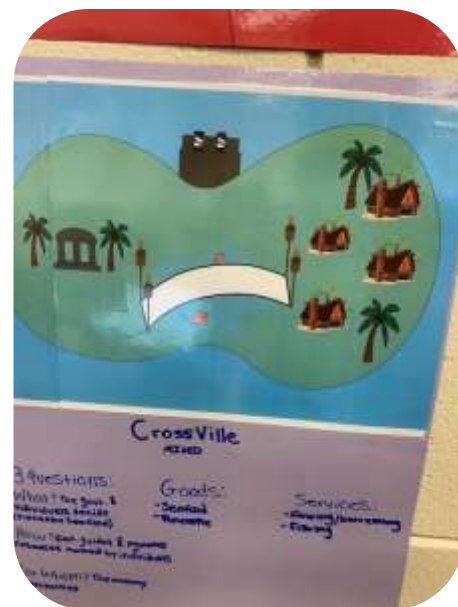

Veterans High Schools Marketing and Graphics Design programs collaborated in a successful project. Marketing students were tasked with creating their own Economic Island. Students used their creativity and imagination to hand draw an island for a chosen economic system. This project required students to include the following elements on their island: airports, travel and tourism activities, housing, and manufacturing buildings that produce goods and services.

Once the drawings were complete, the Graphics students used Adobe Illustrator to render digital images of the drawings. These digital images were printed in color, and the Marketing students completed posters highlighting their economic island. This collaboration allowed students from both classes to work in their content area to maximize their skills. The Graphics students were able to see real-life scenarios of clients giving them ideas of designs and having to create those designs digitally.

Ashley Cline teaches the Graphic Design courses and Angeles Jeffreys teaches the Marketing courses at Veterans High School.
