

Samford is a four-year private university located in Birmingham, Alabama (Southeast U.S.A.). Rigorous academics are central to Samford University's mission, and you will be nurtured to become an independent thinker and lifelong learner.

#3 BEST SCHOOLS IN THE SOUTH
U.S. News & World Report (2014)

2014-15 Undergraduate Tuition
Tuition—$26,524
Room and Board—$9,012
Fees—$800

› Samford offers a challenging curriculum and a rich diversity of exciting academic experiences through 149 majors, minors and concentrations in 25 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. ‹

Fast Facts

- › Founded in 1841
- › Geographic Diversity: Students from 44 states and 22 countries
- › Faculty-to-student ratio: 1:12
- › Faculty: 301 full-time faculty, 85% with terminal degrees (fall 2012); zero classes taught by graduate assistants
- › Record Fall 2013 enrollment: 4,833 (3,013 undergraduate; 1,820 graduate/professional)
- › 87th oldest university in the United States
- › Nationally recognized for academic programs and affordability by Kiplinger's Personal Finance, Forbes, The Princeton Review and other prestigious publications and rankings

Samford University International Programs • 800 Lakeshore Drive • Birmingham, AL 35229
1-205-726-2011 • broffice@samford.edu

Academic Units

- › School of the Arts
- › Howard College of Arts and Sciences
- › Brock School of Business
- › Beeson Divinity School
- › Orlean Bullard Beeson School of Education
- › School of Health Professions
- › Cumberland School of Law
- › Ida V. Moffett School of Nursing
- › McWhorter School of Pharmacy
- › School of Public Health

Entrance Requirements

Application Deadline: August 1
Application Fee: $40
Personal Essay
Leadership Résumé
TOEFL

Notable Rankings

- › Cumberland School of Law is ranked #6 Law School for Trial Advocacy by U.S. News & World Report.
- › Samford's undergraduate teacher education program is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as being one of the top four effective teacher preparation programs in the nation.
- › Brock School of Business Entrepreneurship Program was selected as the 2010 National Outstanding Emerging Entrepreneurship Program by the U.S. Association of Small Business and Entrepreneurship [USASBE].
- › The pass rate for undergraduates nurses taking the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses [NCLEX-RN] is 95%.
- › The pass rate for pharmacy graduates taking the North American Pharmacist Licensure Examination [NAPLEX] is 97%.