Principal's Corner

Parents, this semester is flying by with only six weeks left. Don't wait to have that last minute conversation with your child about his or her grades. Get connected with Infinite Campus and always know where your child stands academically. We are here to support you and have tutoring going on daily. Students should be studying nightly and organizing notes daily to prepare for tests. If you don't see this going on at home then there could be a decline in academic performance. It takes all of us working together to encourage and inspire our students. Together We Learn!
