SSCS Students Grow their Geo Skills

by Jennifer Bohnart

Every year students in grades 4-8 test their geographical knowledge of the world during the SSCS our school's geography bee on Thursday, January 17, 2019. After a long tiebreaker round between Maria V. and Austin W., Maria persevered and is our school champion for the 2019 National Geographic Geography Bee.

National Geographic Geography Bee. Students first participate in a preliminary round during December. In this round, 40 students from grades test their world knowledge of capitals, geographical regions, and continents.

School Champion: Maria V.

Maria will take an online test and based on her scores has the chance to represent our school at the state level. We are proud of learners and look forward to them improving their knowledge of geography for next year's bee!
