Remote learning is defined as internet-based learning that delivers content and enables communication between the educator and students. It is where the student and the educator are not physically present in a traditional classroom environment; therefore, students have access to appropriate educational materials and interact with their teachers daily online. Information is relayed through a delivery platform (Google and Seesaw) where educators and students can engage through discussion boards, video conferencing, online assessments, etc. Remote learning doesn't always mean a student is connected to the internet in order to learn.

Delivery Platform

1. Google suite (grades 3-12) - Google Classroom, Google docs, Google sites, etc.
2. Seesaw (PK-2) is the Lakeview platform.
3. Telecommunications (grades PK-12).

Types of access to remote learning

1. Consistent, reliable access to internet at home
2. Inconsistent, unreliable access to internet at home
3. Access to internet only by community hotspots/parking lot wifi
4. No access to internet

School Community Access to Internet

The District is planning to use bus hotspots that will be parked both in Page and throughout the surrounding communities. More information, including maps to show access points, is under development.

Potential uses for office hours during remote learning:

- Students work through independent practice/work/projects.
- Students participate in online learning that utilizes a flipped classroom concept.
- Students complete independent (concept recovery modules by standard via Edgenuity) re-teach based on assessment results.
- Students check in with small groups of other students to collaborate. (Will this be a problem? Since this leaves students "unsupervised.")
- Teacher facilitates small group re-teach based on assessment results.
- Teacher updates google classroom to include recording from live google meets (all class periods)

Considerations we still need to think through:

On-site learning	Remote learning
	How to teach students that don't have the internet?

	How do we take attendance for students that don't have the internet? How do we capture demonstrations of learning from students that don't have the internet? What we do with classes such as: art, science, music, Navajo Language Equipment needs- Typically a student uses the equipment for a course on-site. What needs do we have to create kits for certain courses? Science, art

Distribution of learning materials:

Chromebooks	Other material needs
August 3	Science
August 4	Art
August 5	Choir/Band Instruments
