Bulletin column December 08, 2019 “From the Pastor”

Dear parishioners,

While many people’s favorite Advent hymn in the English-speaking world is “O Come O Come Emmanuel,” and mine as well, another one I very much appreciate is “On Jordan’s Bank,” which I hope some of you all get to here this weekend. It speaks of the message of St. John the Baptist, preparing the way for Jesus’ ministry among the people.

When we think about it, this Advent focus on John the Baptist is somewhat strange for this particular season. We usually think of Advent first in terms as a preparation for Christmas, the celebration of Jesus’ birth, rather than His adult ministry. If we go deeper, we look at Advent in terms of preparing for Jesus’ second coming at the end of time. His adult ministry, however, doesn’t really fit into either of those easy categories.

What this attention on John the Baptist’s preparation for Jesus does, then, is to remind us that Christmas is about the reception of Jesus as King and Messiah and Savior. It encompasses not just His conception, incarnation, and birth, but also His ministry and kingship. The overall focus of Advent is learning to open our own hearts to Jesus, to His salvation and His kingdom.

Our first reading from the book of the prophet Isaiah tells us of how the Lord’s anointed, or Messiah, will bring about a time of tremendous peace when “the wolf shall be a guest of the lamb, and then leopard shall live down with the kid; the calf and the young lion shall browse together, with a little child to guide them. The cow and the bear shall be neighbors, together their young shall rest; the lion shall eat hay like the ox. The baby shall play by the cobra’s den, and the child lay his hand on the adder’s lair. There shall be no harm or ruin on all My holy mountain; for the earth shall be filled with knowledge of the Lord, as water covers the sea.” However, this peace comes about after the Messiah “strikes the ruthless with the rod of His mouth, and with the breath of His lips... slays the wicked.” This resembles what John the Baptist says at the end of our Gospel reading: Jesus’ “winnowing fan is in His hand. He will clear His threshing floor and gather His wheat into His barn but the chaff He will burn with unquenchable fire.”

John the Baptist and Isaiah are referring more to Jesus’ second coming, when He comes to judge the living and the dead, than to His first. It may strike us as frightening or even troubling that Jesus will treat the wicked – all of those who reject Him in their earthly lives – so ruthlessly. Why is this necessary to bring about a kingdom of peace?

Jesus’ offer of salvation comes with the first coming. He taught, performed miracles, and suffered, died, and rose for us to open to us this kingdom of peace in heaven and at the end of time. But the Father created us as persons, persons who can freely give ourselves as a gift of love in relationship with God and each other. A large part of the seeming hiddenness of God in this life is that, if we saw God face to face in our human weakness, we would have no choice but to love Him and give ourselves to Him. That is why no human being in heaven changes his or her mind – God is too wonderful for them ever to reject Him. This is also why the fulfilled kingdom will be eternal. Meanwhile, offering us the kingdom in the meekness of not forcing us to accept Jesus by forcing our wills in this life preserves our freedom. We must open our hearts to Jesus and be willing to accept Him and His kingdom. There will be peace in the final kingdom because all in it will be those who have freely and joyfully chosen love and peace through Jesus Christ, and all those who did not love peace and freely rejected it will not be part of the kingdom by that self-same choice.

In this way, Jesus respects our human freedom while also offering us the fullness of peace.

This ought to help us understand while not all people will be part of Jesus’ kingdom, and to be at peace with that, but should more importantly spur us to make sure that we are saying yes to Jesus’ kingdom in all aspects of our own lives. St. Paul, in our second reading from his letter to the Romans, speaks of God being a god of “endurance and encouragement.” God strengthens and encourages us to stay close to Him, to continue to live according to Jesus’ kingdom of love with endurance. As we know, accepting Jesus also means that we persist in consistently obeying His commands – to love God with all of our being, to love our neighbor as ourselves, to forgive, and to refrain from judging others. Paul’s prayer is that God will help us to “think in harmony with one another,” in a unity of agreement as to matters of faith and morals, which means that we must accept and believe what the Holy Spirit has taught us through the Church in these matters. We must love people and use things, not the other way around, and when we stumble in any of these matters, we must seek God’s forgiveness in the sacrament of reconciliation. May the God of endurance and encouragement help to keep us all in harmony in our journey to the fullness of the kingdom.

I want to thank all of those who chose to attend our quarterly meeting last week. We had a good discussion on our proposal to change the Wednesday evening Mass from English to Spanish. We have decided in light of the discussion to postpone that move for now. We have an idea in the hopper that may resolve our dilemma. Please pray that we make the best decision in this matter and all decisions that concern the good of St. Michael Church.

As announced at our Sunday Masses, the Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception is not a holy day of obligation this year. Interestingly, it does not displace the Second Sunday of Advent, which shows us the tremendous importance that the Church accords to those Sundays of preparation for Christmas. Rather, that Sunday moves the Solemnity to Monday. While we are not going to have our usual holy day schedule, our usual Monday evening Spanish Communion service will be replaced with a Spanish Mass.

This week also brings us on Thursday the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe, which is so special to our Latino community, but really should be special to all, since she is the patroness of all of the peoples and lands of the Americas as well as of the cause of life. I would encourage all to check our schedule of activities for the week and attend as many as you can. I would especially ask everyone to plan on attending our Guadalupe Festival next Sunday, a special annual event into which we place a great deal of work and preparation. Thanks to all who are giving of their time and talent for the Festival!

As most of you all are aware, I am gone this weekend for the Spanish-language Marriage Encounter in Bellevue. We have 21 couples scheduled to attend, and over half of them are from the Siouxland area (most of these being our parishioners). Please pray for the success of this event, which is a great blessing to couples and families who really need that blessing! In the meantime, be assured of my prayers for all of you.

Fr. Anthony Weidner
