Student Achievement Report

The disaggregated student achievement data was released by the State Department of Education. This information is available in several reports at the State Department of Education website www.alsde.edu, under the Data Center, Education Report Card.

Additionally a link to website is provided below:

http://www.alsde.edu