

Making Tracks

(Genre: Mystery)

1 Katsu stuffed his empty package of fruit snacks into his pocket. "Hold up, Luis!" he called.

2 Luis was far ahead on the snowy trail. He paused to let Katsu catch up.

3 "My dad and my sister are not behind us anymore," Katsu said when he reached Luis.

4 "We had better retrace our steps," said Luis. "Maybe they returned home."

5 It was a gloomy, gray day, but Katsu had talked them all into a long walk. In the woods, the snow was thick and soft, a warm blanket for sleeping animals.

6 Katsu and Luis started back. They had not gone far when Katsu pointed to two sets of footprints. The tracks headed away from the trail into the woods. One set of tracks was large, the other smaller.

7 They began following the tracks and calling. No one answered. They saw a deer with her fawn, but no people.

8 "Yuri has been wandering off since preschool!" Katsu said unhappily. "But now my dad is doing it, too?"

9 Luis laughed. "At least we caught their trail," he said.

10 As the boys passed some thick bushes, they saw an unwelcome sight. The tracks ended. In their place were—11 "Bear tracks!" both boys shouted.

12 A few steps further, the boys noticed an arrow drawn next to the bear tracks. It pointed around a giant rock. Quietly, Katsu and Luis rounded the rock, and suddenly—there were Yuri and Katsu's father. They were laughing hard.

13 "We jumped into the bushes, and I came back as the bear!" their grinning father said. He wore a blue snowsuit. On his feet were big boots with bear feet.

14 "Where did you get those boots?" asked Katsu.

15 "From that magic store that sells joke stuff!" Yuri explained.

16 Everybody laughed as they headed back to the trail. With a good mystery solved, the day was not so gloomy after all.

HEADPHONE HAROLD

Headphone Harold wore his headphones
Through the night and through the day.
He said, "I'd rather hear my music
Than the dumb things people say."

In the city's honkin' traffic,
He heard trumpets 'stead of trucks.
Down the quiet country back roads
He heard drums instead of ducks.

Through the patterin' springtime showers
He heard guitars instead of rain.
Down the track at the railroad crossin'
He heard the trombones—not the train.

Animal Behavior

Shel writes about many zany creatures in Falling Up, but can you name them all? Read the excerpts from the poems below and match the poem with the illustration of the animal it describes. Which character is your favorite, and why?

1. He started jumpin' and skippin' and kickin',
He did a dance called the Funky Chicken,
He did the Polka, he did the Twist,
He bent himself into a pretzel like this.

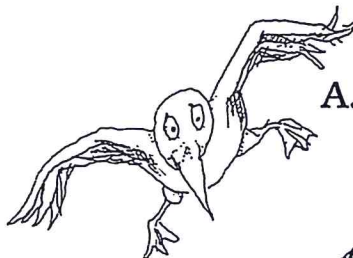

2. He says, "It's not that I like ice
Or freezin' winds and snowy ground.
It's just sometimes it's kind of nice
To be the only bird in town."

3. And when you feel like dancin',
You simply shake a hoof
And hop on the top of your little hut
On your leafy kangaroo. . . .

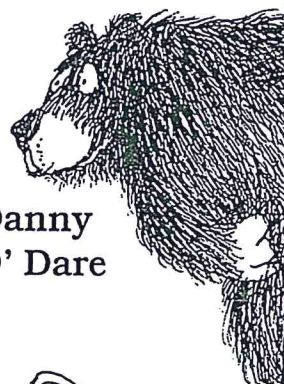

4. And who will comb his tail,
And who will shine his long sharp quills
And manicure his nails?

5. He'll crunch all your soldiers, he'll munch on your trucks,
He'll chew your poor puppets to shreds,
He'll swallow your Big Wheel and slurp up your paints
And bite off your dear dollies' heads.

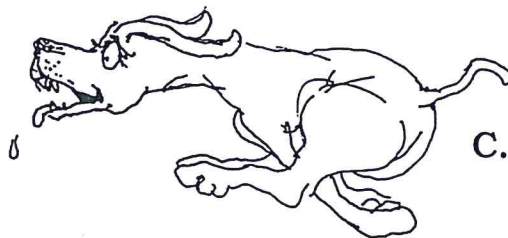

6. I'm barkin', I'm growlin', I'm bitin' his butt.
He howls and jumps back in his sleigh.
I scare his strange horses, they leap in the air.
I've frightened the whole bunch away.
