Teacher Spotlight! Mandeep Sandhu 11th & 12th Grade Chemistry

First, I just want to thank you for selecting me for this great honor.

I have served as a Chemistry teacher in the Holly Springs High School for the last three years. Reflecting on my educational qualifications, I have a master's degree in Chemistry and Bachelor of Science Medical. I have five years of teaching experience in India, and three years of teaching experience in America. I feel my academic background has prepared me well.

Education is an essential process for everyone because it leads to a better future. Life without education means a person will not understand what is happening around them. If we have adequate knowledge, we can not only easily understand and accept failure, but we can also handle success properly.

I want to encourage all students to take the time to explore. Students can explore through their academics, gap year activities, campus activities, or by taking an internship or job. Whatever it is, they should just take the time to try a variety of new things in order to explore what they want to do with their lives.

Now students have an opportunity to go out and share what they have learned at Holly Springs High School with others. Right now is their opportunity to start making a positive impact in the world. This is imperative because although not everyone has had the same privilege to be a part of Holly Springs High School, everyone can benefit from the ideas for which Holly Springs High School stands.

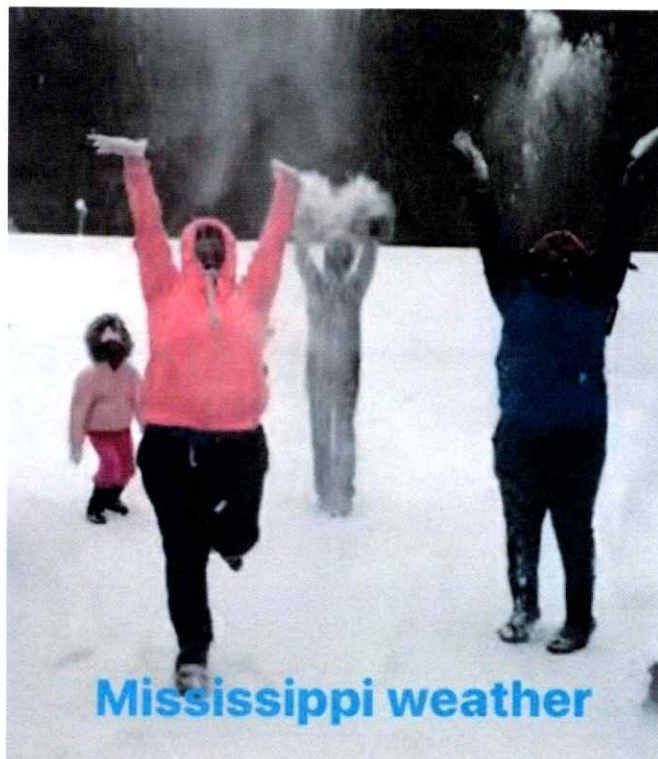

Last but not least, I will continue delivering instruction to the best of my knowledge and ability through diligence, honesty, and hard work in order to uphold the values of the institute of Holly Springs High School.

Ms. Emma Richardson's Spotlight

She loves meeting and greeting students, parents, and staff here at Holly Springs High school. Ms. Richardson is the mother of a graduate from Holly Springs High School class of 2018. She has been employed with the Holly Spring High School for three years. Ms. Emma Richardson, we appreciate all you do, and Holly Springs High School salutes you.
