

Typing Resources

- The website below discusses when a child should learn to type, benefits of learning to type, typing for kids with learning difficulties, and tips for teaching typing.
 - <https://www.readandspell.com/us/teaching-kids-to-type>
- Typing.com allows parents to set up a student login without an email address for free. It has typing lessons, fun games, and tests.
- Make typing fun! Here are some Apps to practice those typing skills.
 - ABC Keyboard
 - Car Typing Racer
 - Animal Typing
 - Keyboard Fun
 - Typing Fingers
- For students who have difficulty with writing legibility, typing can be used to complete worksheets. The SnapType App allows you to take a picture of a handout using an iPad. You can then fill in blanks, complete short answers, or type an essay.
- Below are websites with computer games to practice typing.
 - <https://www.kidztype.com/tags/kids-typing-games/>
 - <https://typetastic.com/>
 - <https://www.turtlediary.com/games/typing-games.html>
- Some ideas for things children can practice typing include: vocabulary or spelling words, name and address/personal information, an email to a family member, diary or journal entries.