Rachel Kelso enjoys spending time with her friends and being active. Her most influential role models have been her mom and dad. Her biggest challenge throughout high school was staying focused. Her school career has been full of memories, but one will stand out the most for her: being in the computer lab.

She is spending most of her senior year in the computer lab working on dual-credit and online classes, so she can get a head start on her future. She plans on studying criminology. In 10 years, she hopes to have a quiet and settled life established. Her advice to the underclassmen is, "Find out what you want, and chase after it like it's a chocolate chip cookie."

Principal Updates from Ms. Russell

Welcome to the 2018-2019 school year at Calhoun R-VIII! We had a great opening and I, as well as the faculty and staff, are looking forward to a wonderful year! I get excited at the beginning of each school year, and this year is no different. I am excited to have my first year as a principal under my belt. I am thankful to have spent the past year as an Eagle. I have developed some great relationships with students, parents, faculty, and staff that have helped make me feel like a real part of this community. I am excited to be able to be here as principal again this school year and look forward to building new relationships and strengthening the ones I already appreciate. The beginning has gone remarkably well. Students, by now, are becoming used to their new schedules, teachers, and changes that take place with the start of every new school year. I have been incredibly impressed with their ability to adapt to these changes and do so with a smile.

I know that each year, every student comes back to school wanting to do his or her best. Almost all students return each year with a common goal—increased success or plans to do better than last year. The desire to complete more assignments, improve attendance, or simply achieve higher grades is common. Parents, guardians, and teachers have a role in the process of helping them reach these goals. Some ways you can help at home include: working to establish time for doing homework, getting adequate sleep, teaching them that it is okay to ask for help when they need it, how to advocate for themselves with teachers, and even eating healthy meals. Students with concrete plans and support to achieve goals are more likely to do so. Please let us know if we can help you help your student in any way to make this year a success!
