DECEMBER 2020

Dear Pe Ell School Families,

Governor Inslee announced new restrictions to try to reduce the transmission of COVID-19 as well as reduce hospitalizations. The great news in his announcement was to allow schools to continue with in-person instruction. Pe Ell School will continue with our current hybrid model. The decision was made for schools to continue in-person because of the safety guidelines, protocols, and procedures that are currently being implemented. We truly appreciate the commitment and discipline of our staff, students, and families at Pe Ell for following the guidelines and protocols provided by the Department of Health, L&I, and OSPI. This commitment and discipline has proven in-person instruction in schools can be a safe place for students and staff.

We remind you to please keep kids home with any flu-like symptoms and inform each of the schools if your child(ren) is sick and has flu-like symptoms. Please do not send sick kids to school. Even if they have allergy type symptoms, we are expecting you to keep them at home and the student(s) can receive their education online. We appreciate your support through this process.

In the event that our Governor or local health department deems in-person learning too risky, please know that we are preparing to pivot immediately back to full distance learning. We will continue to do everything possible to keep moving forward; however, we must be prepared that events may occur that require us to transition back to this model. Because we started the school year in full distance learning, we feel confident that we can continue to serve our students effectively.
