About the Creator of this Product

Hi! I'm Jessica (from The Speech Space) and I love creating therapy materials that are fun and engaging. I'm known for creating survival packs to make targeting areas like apraxia or fluency a little bit easier for you! I've recently started creating No Print items (like this one) because I've found it is great for SLPs on the go or without access to a color printer. The best part is that the kids LOVE these activities. They are simple, yet engaging and help you to target their goals while keeping speech fun!

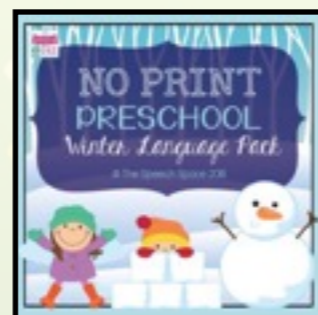

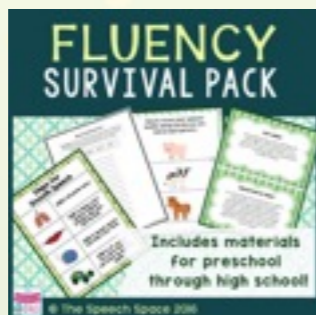

Subscribing to email updates is a great way to stay in touch! There are many perks to being an email subscriber. For instance, new materials are often discounted 50% for the first 48 hours they are posted, so you will be the first to know about it! I also run a Five Fab Freebies column a couple of times a month, so it's an awesome way to learn about some great FREEBIES too.
