Seventh Grade Reading Students.

Good morning, seventh grade,

You are receiving the sixth and final digital weekly assignment from me. Your assignment is on my Teacher Page under lohn isd.net. Complete your work and email it to me. Your work is coming in very slowly. Please remember you are required to complete all your work to get credit for the year. At this point most of you are failing for the six weeks, because I have no work from you, which could, possibly, cause you to fail for the year. Not doing your work at home is the same as not doing it at school. It's a requirement for seventh grade credit.

Your assignment for this week is to complete all your late work and get it to me through email. If all your work is turned in you will receive two "100's" for the week. This will really boost your average.

Have a good week,

Mrs. Martin
