

Reading Response Board: Fiction

Read your book and choose a response question. Explain your answer to the question and support it with text evidence. Color the box or "x" the box when you are done!

	A	B	C
1	What connections can you make between your life and the book?	What are some of your character's actions that will affect the plot later on? Why do you think that?	Explain the theme of the story and back up your answer with evidence!
2	What is the current mood of your book? How does the author display this and how does it affect the reader's understanding?	Explain the character's problem and then offer that character advice on how to solve their problem.	What is another book that you have read that has something in common with this one?
3	What is the narrator's perspective? How would the story be different if it were told in another character's point of view?	Choose one character and explain why you would or would not want to have him/her as a friend in real life.	What is the setting of your story? If it were in a different location or time, how would it affect the characters and the plot? Give an example!
4	What is the point of view? Retell your favorite part in the opposite point of view or in first person as you being the main character.	Describe a character's traits and feelings. What causes the character to behave in certain ways?	From what you have read so far, what prediction can you make? What makes you think that will happen next?

Reading Response Board: Non-Fiction

Read your book and choose a response question. Explain your answer to the question and support it with text evidence. Color the box or "x" the box when you are done!

	D	E	F
1	Write 3 important facts from your text. What do you find interesting about these facts?	What is the main idea of what you read? Give at least 3 supporting details that support your main idea.	Write a summary of what you read in your text today.
2	What is the main idea of what you read? Give 3 details to support the main idea.	What are some words you did not know in your text? Use a dictionary or context clues to explain the meanings.	What text features do you see within your text? Give some examples and explain their purpose.
3	What is the text structure, how do you know, and is it a first hand or a second hand account?	What is the author's wanting you to learn? How do you know?	Rewrite a portion of your text as a compare and contrast of a similar topic.
4	What would be a necessary text feature to add to your reading today to help the reader better understand the topic? Illustrate.	Complete a "High 5 to Nonfiction" paragraph from your reading. (Who is important, what did they do, when did they do it, where did they do it, why is it important, how did it affect others)	Find a cause and effect relationship. Explain the relationship and why it is important.