- How do I know my application went through? You will receive a confirmation number once your application is submitted. It is very important that you PRINT OUT your confirmation number. If you did not receive one, your application was not successfully submitted. Please try again.
- Do currently enrolled Bok (North or South) students need to reapply to keep their spots? No, current students do not need to apply each year.
- If my child is already enrolled at one campus and I'd like them to attend the other, what do I do? Apply for the other campus during Open Enrollment. There are no guarantees in campus changes. Applying for the other campus does not give up your child's spot at their current school.

Do I need to submit an application for the younger sibling? Yes, any student wanting to be considered for acceptance must apply. This applies to all LWCS employees, siblings of currently enrolled students, and military personnel. Note: If applying for multiple students, each must have an application submitted.
