Parent's Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

What is a decodable?

A decodable is a booklet filled with exciting stories full of sounds and words to practice. Decodables are intentionally designed to practice important sounds and to provide adults readers with guidance on how to focus on sounds when reading out loud.

Can only parents order or can teachers order?

These are available for all Tennessee families of kindergarten, 1st, or 2nd grade students to order online from the department's website.

If a family does not have stable address, where can the booklets be shipped?

A parent can use any address in Tennessee.

Can only families with students in public schools order these or open to all Tennessee families regardless of school type?

This is open to all Tennessee families of kindergarten, 1st, or 2nd grade children.

If a family has more than one student in K-2, can you order more than one packet per family/address?

One packet of decodables can be ordered for each kindergarten, 1st, or 2nd grade child in the home.

Are these available in other languages other than English?

The booklets are only available in English at this time.

If the booklets are destroyed or messed up or lost, can they be replaced or order again?

Due to limited availability and supply, only one packet of decodables per student is available to order at this time.

Can these be downloaded or are they accessible online?

A digital sample of a booklet is available here. Families are encouraged to order these FREE materials to be shipped to their home.

Is a paper order form available for ordering the decodables?

No. Decodables can only be ordered through the online form. The QR code makes it simple to order using any device.

Can the decodables order form handle deliveries to multifamily home?

Yes, the order form supports ordering for families that may share a mailing address. Only one set of booklets may be ordered per student.

I ordered my decodables a few weeks ago and have not received them yet. Who can I contact for assistance?

Please e-mail TN.decodables@tn.gov for additional information and assistance.

The order form did not load properly or I am not sure how to fill out a certain part. Who can I contact?
