

What is happening with athletics?

In early August, the Oregon School Activities Association (who oversees athletics in Oregon) communicated changes to the athletic seasons for 2020-21.

What is the new schedule?

All sports are now pushed into the period between January and June.

The traditional winter schedule will now occur over an eight week period with practice time beforehand lasting from December 28, 2020 to March 7, 2021. This will include wrestling and basketball (women and men).

The traditional fall schedule will now occur over an eight week period with practice time beforehand lasting from February 22, 2021 to May 2, 2021. This will include football, cross-country, and volleyball.

The traditional spring schedule will now occur over an eight week period with practice time beforehand lasting from April 19, 2021 to June 27, 2021. This will include baseball, softball, and track-and-field.

The fall period will include conditioning periods. These will be scheduled so that multi-sport athletes will not have conflicts.

Is there a guarantee that all sports will occur?

No. As with most things at this time, the plan is subject to change. Some of the sports (football, basketball, and wrestling) are denoted by OSAA as high risk. Others are moderate risk (baseball, softball, and volleyball). Still others are considered low risk (cross-country and track-and-field). OSAA will be reviewing the status of the virus cases prior to seasons and will make adjustments (if necessary).

Can I watch my student athlete play?

We are still in the process of deciding how to accommodate spectators. Of course, there will be mask and social distancing requirements, but the specific logistics are not yet available. We hope to webcast games, so that families, friends, and other loved ones can view Logger and Bulldog athletics.
