

Welcome to Business Law Education. I am glad to have you in my class. If you have had me for one of the other classes I've taught, welcome back scholar. One of the things that makes my class interesting is the class discussion. We will miss out on those. However, I would like for you to take time to discuss the "Hot Debate" and "What's your verdict" with your family. Each week I will update my website by 10 am Monday morning. I was able to find an online book for you to read and follow along. We will have a chapter per day Monday – Wednesday. Thursday will be used as a review day. Everyone is expected to participate. Participation is one of the 2 grades per week that I will have. Test will be on Friday; the review will help tremendously with this test. We will get thru this together. I look forward to meeting all of you. May is coming quickly. Take care of BUSINESS.
