William Fritz Superintendent

November 17, 2020

Dear Knappa Community:

Late yesterday, we learned that one of our teachers who has been teaching online from home tested positive for COVID-19. The teacher has not been in proximity with any students.

We also have three employees right now who are quarantining because of possible exposure and/or because of the new travel quarantine requirement established by the state of Oregon. These teachers will be teaching online until they are permitted to return to in-person instruction, and there is no reason right now to believe they have COVID-19. Their quarantine is precautionary.

In the interest of transparency, I wanted to let you know.

Bill Fritz, Ph.D.
Superintendent
