Tips to Help Kids (and Adults) Overcome Fear of Dentists

(Paraphrased From Parents.com)

- Start young- It's best to visit at age 1 or when the first tooth is visible.
- Keep it Simple- Too many details may lead to "what if" questions and anxiety.
- Watch Your Words- Words like "shot, hurt, or pain" are scary, let the dental staff introduce their own vocabulary to kids to explain what will happen.
- Consider a Pretend Visit- A visit to get ready for what will happen can make things not so scary.
- Do Not Try to Relate- Don't tell a story about having a cavity filled when you were young. Dental technology has come a long way, maybe now having a cavity drilled is a lot quicker and painless.
- Prepare for Some Fussing-Children can wiggle and whine, let the dental care professionals guide the visit.
- Avoid Bribery- Promising a sugary treat after dental visit defeats the purpose of having nice clean teeth, praise your child for their bravery and good behavior.
- Emphasize the Importance of Good Oral Hygiene- The dentist is a necessity, try and go every 6 months and remember to brush and floss twice a day.

Kana's Kitchen and Paige's Pantry-

Mardi Gras is the French name for Fat Tuesday. The king cake season lasts from Epiphany (January 6th) until Fat Tuesday, the day before Lent starts, when Christians give up things like sweets to get ready for Easter. The colors on the king cake are green, gold, and purple. The different colors have different meanings: green is for faith, the gold is for wealth and purple stands for justice. According to tradition, a baby, usually plastic, is hidden inside the cake and if you find the baby you will have good luck for the whole year and have to host the Mardi Gras party next year. Here is an easy recipe for your next Mardi Gras party. Laissez les bons temps rouler, let the good times roll!

Ingredients:

- 3 Pillsbury Crescent Dough Sheets
- Cinnamon sugar mixture: 1/2 c. granulated sugar +2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 Plastic King Cake baby (to hide inside, of course!)
- Purple, Green, and gold sugar sprinkles.
- Optional fillings: fruit pie filling, or Nutella, or almond paste
- 1 can Pillsbury Cream Cheese Icing

1. Cover a baking sheet with parchment paper. Unroll the dough and press the seams together(if you want to keep it as a whole sheet), sprinkle each with about a tablespoon of cinnamon sugar mix.
2. Roll each dough sheet from the shortest side of the rectangle.
3. Arrange the 3 sheets of crescent roll dough into an oval shape and pinch the seams together so it holds its shape.
4. Bake according to the crescent roll directions about 8-11 minutes (you might need to add 5-10 minutes cooking time depending on your oven). Cook until the top is a golden brown color all over and the insides are done.
5. Let cool about 10 minutes then cover the king cake in softened creamed cheese frosting and sprinkle with green, purple,, and yellow or gold sugar sprinkles.

FEBRUARY BOOK REVIEW BY EMILY O'MARA, ERIK MENDEZ, AND ROOM 15

Love is all around' New Jersey

Written by Wendi Silvano

Illustrated by Joanna Czernichowska

This book is about what love is and all the different ways we can show people we love them. It's also about how we can see love in many different places in our own state of New Jersey. You'll see the names of many familiar NJ towns and cities. The author and illustrator have written books about other states, too.

Sarah liked the rhymes in the book.

Kayla recommends this book because it's about love!

Andre enjoyed the pictures of animals and vehicles.

Liz agrees with the author, "there's no greater love than the love of your family."
