This week is Red Ribbon Week. We will have dress-up days all week to bring awareness to being drug-free. Monday is Unity Day (Bullying Prevention day) so we will wear ORANGE to celebrate everyone coming back together this week. Tuesday is dress like a friend day, Wednesday is Crazy Socks day (send a picture of your child and yourself to the teacher), Thursday is Camo day, and Friday is your favorite team apparel day.

Tuesday the 3rd - 5th grade will be taking their math check-in, and on Thursday the 4th and 5th grade will be taking their reading check-in.

Wednesday is a remote instructional day, so all children will be home on Wednesdays for remote instruction like we have from the beginning of the year.

As a reminder, Nov. 3rd and 4th are remote instructional days, and Nov. 11 (Veteran's Day) is a Holiday.

The car rider lines in the AM and PM will take a bit longer since we have everyone back. Please be patient with us and we continue to dismiss from the classrooms to keep children as separated as possible.

As we start to go to school 4 days a week with all of the children back, it is just as important to make sure you keep your child home if they or anyone in the house is having symptoms of COVID. The best way for us to keep coming to school 4 days a week, which is the best for children, is to make sure we don't have any exposures at school. It is inconvenient to keep your child home, but doing so will save the classroom and allow others to keep on going to school. We appreciate all everyone has done this year and the understanding when we have to send your child home for an extended period of time. Together we will get through this, but for now, Monday will be a great day with all of our children back at school. Thanks and I hope you have a great week.
