CLASSROOM NEWS

You are receiving the newsletter a day early this week because I will not be at school tomorrow.

This week is Transportation Week! We are learning about different ways to get from one place to another by traveling in the sky, on land & on water.

Our books this week are: Down By The Station, Amazing Airplanes, Don't Let The Pigeon Drive The Bus, Things That Go & Red Light, Green Light.

Monday we worked hard sorting different forms of transportation into the way they travel, Tuesday we were airplanes during Music & Movement and did a transportation collage, today we built ramps, tomorrow we will paint with cars & Friday we will be learning about stop lights, what the colors mean & make our own!

"When you compliment your children, praise them for inner qualities such as kindness, honesty and perseverance so they will strive to contribute to the world in meaningful ways."

-Toni Schutta
