

Mrs. Victoria L. Harris is a life-long educator. She received her Education Specialist degree in Educational Leadership from Troy State University; Master of Education degree in Educational Administration from Troy State University; and Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Georgia Southwestern College/now Georgia Southwestern State University.

Mrs. Harris was previously employed with the Sumter County School System. During her tenure in the Sumter School System, she served as a teacher, teacher leader, assistant principal at Sumter County Comprehensive High School, principal of Sumter County High School, principal of Americus-Sumter Ninth Grade Academy, principal of A.S. Staley Middle School, and Associate Superintendent of Sumter County Schools. In January 2016, Mrs. Harris assumed the position of Superintendent of the Quitman County Schools-Georgetown, Georgia.

Mrs. Harris is a member of the Bethesda Missionary Baptist Church (Americus Ga.) where she serves in the adult Usher's Ministry. Her professional organizations consist of Georgia Association Education Leaders (GAEL), Georgia Schools Superintendent Association (GSSA), Georgia Association of Curriculum and Instructional Supervisors (GACIS), and Georgia Association of Educators (GAE). She is also a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

Harris' philosophy of education is that all students can learn and have a right to learn. She believes that teachers have a right to teach in an environment that is free of disruptions and where students individuality is embraced.

Mrs. Harris is the wife of Dwight B. Harris Sr., who is the Athletic Manager of Sumter County Parks and Recreation Department. They are the proud parents of Dwight B. Harris Jr. who is a sophomore at Chattanooga State Community College.
