

Dr. Kathy Lambert Stanley was born in Mobile, Alabama. She attended the public school system in Mobile and graduated from Murphy High School. She received her Bachelor's Degree in Education from The University of South Alabama, also in Mobile. Between her freshman and sophomore years in college, she married Joe Stanley. After her graduation, they moved to Warner Robins and had two sons, Brian and David.

Dr. Stanley received her Master's Degree from Georgia College in Milledgeville, and she received her Specialist and Doctorate Degrees from the University of Georgia in Athens. She began her career teaching mathematics in the Houston County School System at Tabor Junior High School. She later taught at Elberta Elementary School, as well as Warner Robins Junior High School, and also was the Instructional Coordinator at CB Watson Elementary.

During her 15 years at Northside High School as Assistant Principal of Instruction, she worked closely with our foreign exchange students. She worked tirelessly to make them feel a part of the Northside "Family." Dr. Stanley established a ten-year successful exchange program involving Northside teachers and students with a school in Dresden, Germany.

Dr. Stanley retired after serving 31 years in the Houston County School System. After retirement, Dr. Stanley went to Macon State College, now Middle Georgia State University, to teach and to develop the Department of Education's four-year degree program. She also taught in the College of Education at Fort Valley State University and conducted teacher observations and teacher placements at Georgia College.

It's Great to be a Northside Eagle!

What does Northside High School mean to you?

Northside became my family. It was a place where I could apply my education and I looked forward to going to work every day and as a result my blood runs "True Blue."
