

- Events on January 14, 2012

- Author Signing

Starts: 10:00 am

Ends: January 14, 2012 - 2:00 pm

Location: Coffee County Manchester Public Library

Description: Twenty Tennessee authors will be at the library to meet the public and autograph copies of their books. Refreshments will be provided by Starbucks and Bunny Bread.

Currently scheduled to be at the author signing are:

Stephen Lyn Bales is a nature-writer, illustrator and photographer besides being a naturalist at Ljams Nature Center in Knoxville. You can follow his blog at stephenlynbales.blogspot.com

Michael Bradley, Civil War historian, has two new books---"Myths and Mysteries of the Civil War" and "Forrest's Fighting Preacher: David Campbell Kelley of Tennessee". Welcome back Professor Bradley!

Meredith Leigh Burton will join us from Lynchburg. A fantasy writer, Meredith's books are "Crimilia," and "The Jarah Portal' There's more about Meredith on her website <http://crimilia.tateauthor.com/>

Chester Campbell is returning to our author signing with the second Sid Chance mystery, "The Good, the Bad and the Murderous". Old fans and new can check out more at <http://www.ChesterCampbell.com>.

Barbara Ebel, MD - Barbara is an anesthesiologist-turned-author who writes medical fiction and children's books featuring Chester the Chesapeake Bay Retriever. Find out more at her websites: <http://barbaraebel.weebly.com/> and <http://dogbooksforchildren.weebly.com>

J.T. Ellison will be back this year with "Where all the Dead Lie", the seventh in her Taylor Jackson series. Her website is <http://www.jtellison.com> and you can see J.T. on OWN.com: The Oprah Winfrey Network - "Life is not a Straight Line".

Ronda Friend, author, storyteller, entertainer, writes the children's series, "Down on Friendly Acres". Read more about Ronda at <http://www.rondafriend.com>

Bente Gallagher aka Jenna Bennett aka Jennie Bentley aka New York Times Bestselling Author will return to Manchester with two new books. To find out more, go to <http://www.jenniebentley.com>

Susan Gregg Gilmore's new book is "The Improper Life of Bezellia Grove: A Novel" and we are glad to have her back for her second signing. Susan's website is <http://www.susangregggilmore.com>

Teresa Hall wrote and illustrated the children's book, "God's Amazing Apples".

D.B. Henson is a suspense author from the Nashville area. "Deed to Death" grabs the reader and just doesn't let go. Her website is <http://www.dbhenson.com>

Cindal Cooley Jackson - You may remember Cindal from when she worked at the library. She will be back with her second fantasy book, "Legacy of Stone", and her first children's book, "We Are One".

Janice Lynn will join us again with two new Harlequin romances, "The Doctor's Damsel in Distress" and "Flirting with the Society Doctor". Janice's website is <http://www.janicelynn.com>

Lisa Patton returns with the sequel to "Whistlin' Dixie in a Nor'easter". "Yankee Doodle Dixie" was released in September. Lisa and her books are "Southern to the core". Welcome back Lisa! <http://www.lisapatton.com/>

Weldon Payne - Weldon fans unite! and come visit with him at the author signing. It just wouldn't be the same without him.

Mary Riggsby has written a history of Mt. Carmel Cemetery. We welcome her to her first author signing here at the Coffee County Manchester Public Library.

Sheila Robertson will be here for the first time with her book "Alzheimer's...There is Hope", a Biblical perspective on this sinister disease. <http://sheilarobertsonbooks.com/>

Michael Shoulders was here for our summer reading program and we are thrilled that he will be back for our author signing. You can see his books at <http://www.MichaelShoulders.com>

Sarah Raelene Taylor has written a fiction book about a young nurse in the Vietnam War. Help us welcome her to her first author signing. <http://www.publishamerica.net/product92933.html>

Elizabeth Terrell 's latest book will be published under the pseudonym Jayden E. Terrell. We welcome Beth back to the library no matter what name she publishes under.