New Milford's Mission Statement

The mission of the New Milford Public Schools, a collaborative partnership of students, educators, family and community, is to prepare each and every student to compete and excel in an ever-changing world, embrace challenges with vigor, respect and appreciate the worth of every human being, and contribute to society by providing effective instruction and dynamic curriculum, offering a wide range of valuable experiences, and inspiring students to pursue their dreams and aspirations.

Course Overview

English I is a full-year course offered to ninth grade students at the college preparatory and honors levels. During this course, students will read and analyze fiction, nonfiction, poetry, drama, and film. Students will explore four major themes relevant to their lives and place in society in order to appreciate how other think and feel and use language to express themselves, to make meaning, and to change or influence others.

Close reading, research, analytical, collaboration, and writing skills are taught and reinforced. All students will complete four major common assessments in order to demonstrate their proficiency in these skills.

This course is aligned to Common Core State Standards.

Develop Teaching and Learning Plan

Teaching Strategies:

Teaching Shakespeare:

- Provide notes on terminology related to drama (aside, monologue, soliloquy, comedic relief, irony)
- Provide background research on Shakespeare's time and the time period within the play
- Model annotating a soliloquy and monologue for understanding of content and its meaning
- Provide opportunities for students to analyze elements of a play including themes, motifs, and symbolism
- Provide a selection of sonnets for students to analyze Shakespeare's language
- Utilize clips of film, video and theatrical productions/adaptations to engage students in the staging and directorial choices pertinent to drama and film as texts
- Provide free-writing and journaling prompts related to the content of the play

Learning Activities:

Reading, Understanding, and Analyzing a Shakespearean Play:

- Historical background research of Shakespeare, including the time period represented in the chosen literary work
- Write a journal entry/letter from the stance of a person in the play
- Timeline of major events in a character's story/life
- Write an objective summary of the play
- Create a visual depiction of a character's journey throughout the text
- Portrayal of a character by acting out a key scene of the script
- Create a symbolism chart using key terms and/or motifs
- Demonstrate understanding of terminology: aside, monologue, soliloquy, comedic relief, irony, iambic pentameter, couplet rhyme scheme
- Have students rewrite a scene, using modern day language (i.e. translating original script)

- Create small group work and jigsaw tasks to foster comprehension and critical thinking skills
- Organize fishbowl, Socratic Seminar, and/or other student-directed discussion activities to foster student critical thinking and discussion skills
- Include Think-Pair-Share as a routine activity to foster student understanding of content and terminology

Teaching a Persuasive Speech:

- Generate group discussions scaffolding questions to gear student discussion about content and elements of a persuasive speech
- Teach and model parallelism for use within speech for clarity and stylistic effect
- Provide students with time to research information in regards to the common assessment requirements
- Allow students to work with group members to generate discussions about the relevance of teaching and presenting a Shakespearean play today
- Review what makes a source valid and reliable
