Special education funding is determined by needs of the students:

- Salaries for SPED Director, Psychometrist, Behavior specialist and SPED-Care-givers
- Supplies for special education students and classes (including software, paper, ink and toner, classroom instructional supplies, workbooks, calculators, binders, manipulatives, supplies to enhance transition, etc.)
- Technology for special education students
- Physical therapy and occupational therapy for those students who's IEP indicates a need
- Specialized assistive technology devices when prescribed or indicated by the IEP
- Training for special education teachers in the areas of IEP Development, curriculum and instruction, special computer applications for use with special education teachers
- Travel for special education staff and students for transition and other curriculum or IDEA topics
- Office and assessment supplies for the special education department
- Other specific items deemed necessary by a student's IEP.

Upon request, the information can be reviewed, or sent to parents in a spreadsheet form.
